PENN - BERNVILLE HIGH SCHOOL ______ BERNVILLE, PENNA. _____

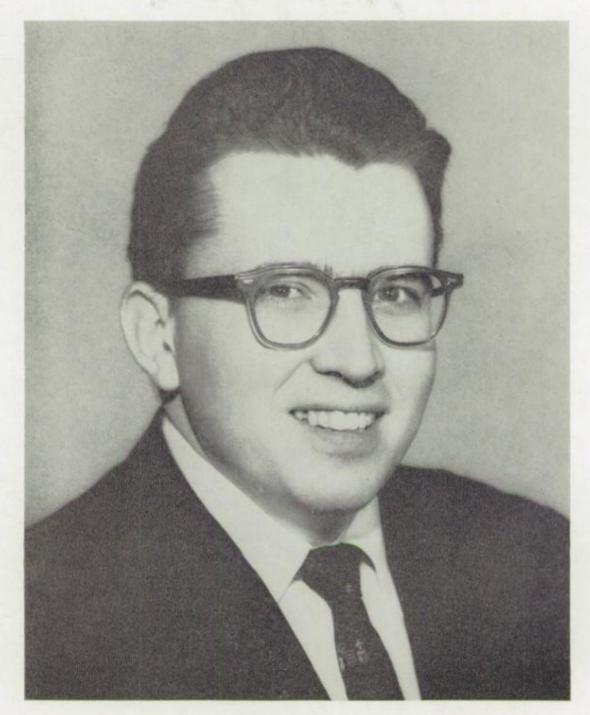

Foreword

We present to you our 1957 PENNANT, in which we relate music to everyday high school life. Every age has had its beginning in music, its experimental period, its highest point in music, followed by new ideas that prepare the way for the next era.

Our lives have followed this same pattern—our beginning in the elementary grades, our experimentation during junior high, our highest point this year, and new spirit now radiating in the underclasses. Here are the final compositions indicating the preparation for the next period. The black of the cover represents the notes of our music; the gold, the golden quality of the musical tone.

Dedication

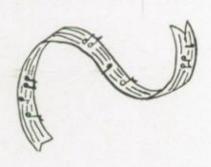

Mr. Russell L. Berger

Mr. Russell L. Berger—music instructor, band director, builder of school spirit in all phases of music—displays his outstanding interest in his duty. For this reason, we, the Class of 1957, dedicate this PENNANT to him. Mr. Berger has taught us the value of music; he has strengthened the various musical organizations; and he has trained students for county, district, and state musical groups. Mr. Russell L. Berger represents music at Penn-Bernville, and this PENNANT of music is sincerely dedicated to him.

MR. WALTER A. ROHRBACH

Principal

To our principal, Mr. Walter A. Rohrbach, we express our appreciation for his sincere assistance he has given us. His words of advice will guide us in our chosen careers.

PENN-BERNVILLE SCHOOL BOARD

Seated: Mrs. Mae R. Streaker, Clarence W. Mengel, Edwin I. Showers. Standing: Walter A. Rohrbach, Alvin Zerbe, Rev. Frank W. Ruth, Raymond E. Mohn.

TO THE CLASS OF 1957:

Your class symbolizes two fine attitudes which set a high standard of work and conduct. First, you have demonstrated that the senior class can work well within the framework of our student council organization by showing a willingness to accept the group's decisions after trying hard to persuade them to think as you do. This is one of the finest experiences in democracy.

Secondly, you have shown that you realize the value of high academic standards which can be maintained only by uninterrupted classwork, because you have coöperated so well in working together after school and during many evenings to prepare for your class play, the Pennant, the Penn-Guin, and other class or group projects. This, of course, means sometimes giving up other activities, but it puts your high school in its proper perspective. Your high school work is the most important thing you have to do during your high school years. Many of you have demonstrated that you realize this.

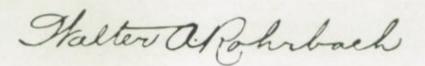

Congratulations on your 1957 Pennant! Having seen some features in advance, I know you will have an excellent book. I am sure that the message told by your theme will always be an inspiration to you.

MRS. ANNA KOHLHEPP

Secretary

Mrs. Anna Kohlhepp, Mr. Rohrbach's capable and dependable secretary, can always be found busily working or seeking supplies for the students. Mrs. Kohlhepp is always doing little important things to make our school days easier and pleasant. We wish to express our deep thanks to her.

We wish to express our appreciation to the efficient bus drivers: Ralph Kissling, Mrs. Ralph Kissling, Homer Bashore, Charles Lebo, John Endy, Louie Porto, and Jack Reed. Throughout the year these drivers have provided safe and comfortable transportation for all of us students.

Mops, brooms, and brushes are constantly used by our custodian, John Endy. The appearance of the classrooms, corridors, and outside grounds is a definite indication of commendable work. To you, Mr. Endy, we express a sincere "Thank you".

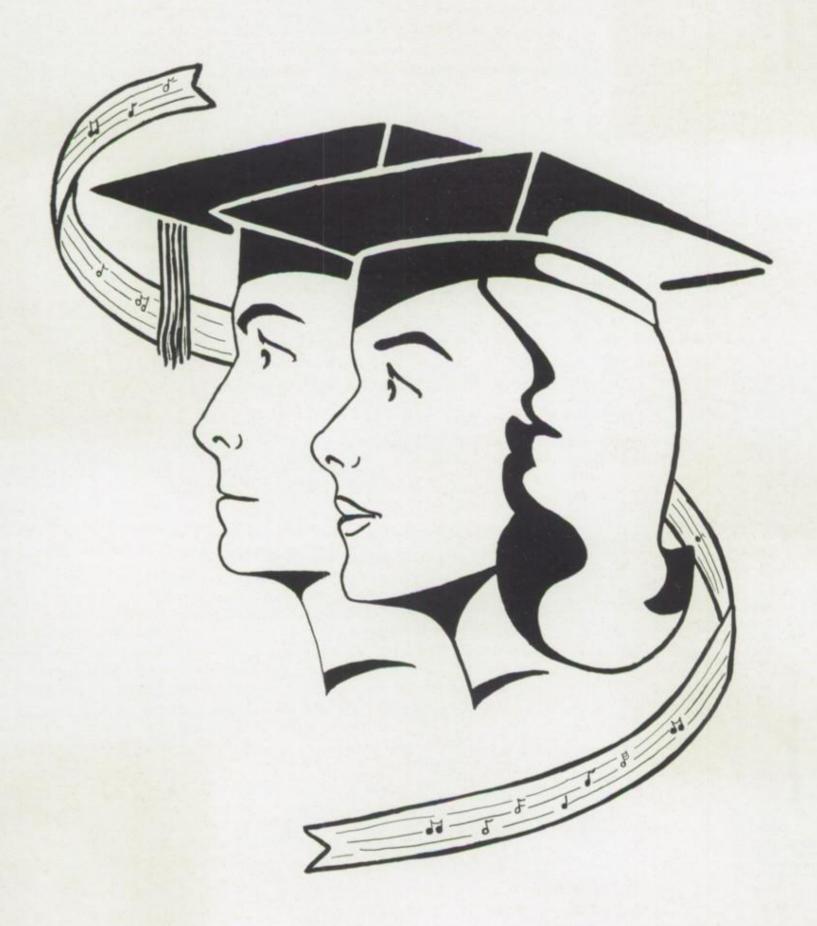

"Lunch", served at the most popular time of the day, is prepared by our cooks, Mrs. John Bixler and Mrs. Raymond Mohn. One of our favorite lunches includes hamburgers, potato salad, peas, milk, and grapefruit sections.

Seniors welcome this daily routine after a busy morning. Patricia Doganes, Sarah Fox, Shirley Bender, and Brenda Brehm are being served by the cooks and the homemaking students. At 12:45 p. m. the seniors will resume their schedule of classroom study.

Our prelude has ended

SENIORS

SHIRLEY PATRICIA BENDER

"Shirley"

Music Club 1; Chorus 1; Sports Booster Club 2; Field Hockey 4; Debate 4; Sports Leader Club 3 vice-president, president 4; Softball 4; PENNANT 4.

Shirley, a 5' 41/2" senior, has been chosen the most athletic senior girl by the senior high school students. She has spent many evening hours working on the PENNANT. Her "Man, Oh Man" is a common reaction to various situations; and her favorite subject is English. Shirley expects to join the WACS and then study a medical course. Shirley's humor and lively comments are the reasons for her being a close competitor as the most humorous senior girl. Students will miss her useful and interesting remarks during any discussion.

BARBARA ANN BLATT

"Babs"

Music Club 1; Typing Club 3, 4; Chorus 4; Field Hockey 4; Soft-ball 4; PENN-GUIN 4; PENNANT 4.

Babs, a very talkative girl, plans to be a secretary after graduation. This senior girl, who has brown hair and hazel eyes, is only 4' 11" tall; but she exhibits unequalled excitement. Barbara will be well remembered, and every student is familiar with her favorite expression, "Oh, no!" Whenever Babs hears her favorite song, while either watching "Bandstand" or dancing, she becomes dreamy-eyed and lost in her memories. She enjoys dancing at the weekly hoedowns; she also enjoys studying her favorite subject, bookkeeping.

BRENDA JOAN BREHM

"Brenda"

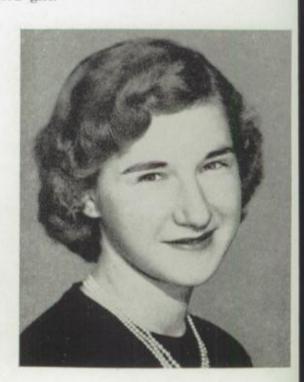

Music Club 1; Sports Booster Club 2; Art Club 3, 4; Field Hockey 4; Softball 4; PENNANT 4, artist.

Brenda, the prettiest senior girl, can often be seen doing some kind of work in the art room. Working with Joanne, Brenda created the divider pages for the PENNANT. She is 5' 2" tall; and this active senior displays much determination in all her work. Her pastimes are listening to "cool" records and day-dreaming, probably about the future. If anyone has difficulty getting Brenda's attention, she is seriously engrossed in her art work. In addition to being selected the prettiest senior girl, Brenda was a runner-up for the most talented girl.

MAE REBECCA DEGLER "Mae"

Music Club 1; Band 1, 2, 3, 4; Chorus 1, 2, 3, 4; Sports Leader Club 3, 4; Debate 3, 4; Field Hockey 4; Softball 4; PENN-GUIN 4, coeditor; PENNANT 4.

One of the smallest seniors, Mae stands 5' tall. Mae's interests in sports and physical education are high; she is contented with everything that deals with sports. As a result, Mae was runner-up as the most outstanding senior girl athlete. Mae, who has green eyes and brown hair, is very active and dependable in all her activities. Her future plans are to be a stenographer. Mae has willingly given much of her spare time to plan the lay-out of the various issues of the PENN-GUIN.

PATRICIA ANN DOGANES

"Pat"

Junior Chorus 1; Music Club 1; PENN-GUIN 1; Sports Booster Club 2; Sports Leader Club 3, 4; Softball 4; PENNANT 4.

Quiet around teachers and strangers, Pat has, for the most part, confined her joke-telling to all seniors and her good friends. This 5' 5½" senior girl, who has dark brown hair and brown eyes, was voted the most humorous in the class. Pat dislikes reading love poems, but she enjoys listening to good music. She wants to pursue a medical course in one of the armed services. Pat, while walking through the school halls, can be heard exclaiming "Holy Smokes."

SARAH AMELIA FOX

"Millie"

Music Club 1; Chorus 1; Sports Booster Club 2; Sports Leader Club 3, 4; Softball 4; PENNANT 4.

This tall, pretty senior girl has dark brown hair and brown eyes. Millie enjoys horseback riding and almost anything that deals with the outdoors. She can often be seen with two good friends at dances. Her plans for the future are undecided, but she has a strong desire to work in the medical profession. "Daddy-O" is a common expression that Millie uses in many of her conversations. Sarah joined the class in the freshmen year; her interest and her work in school subjects, especially in English, are most commendable.

JERALD WILBUR HARTMAN

"Peeky"

Sportsman's Club 1; Chorus 1, 3, 4; Baseball 2, 4; F.F.A. 2, 3 reporter, 4 secretary; Debate 4; PENNANT 4.

There is never a dull moment when Peeky is around the students. This 5' 4" senior, who has brown hair and brown eyes, was voted the most humorous boy. Many dreary hours have been changed to lively ones because of his presence; yearbook meetings have been memorable ones because he added his lively comments and jokes. Everyone can see Peeky driving a black Ford, especially after the hoe-downs. Peeky's ambitions include serving in the Air Force and attending an engineering college.

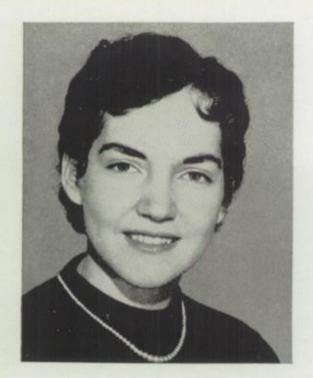

NANCY LOU HENNE

"Nancy"

Music Club 1; Chorus 1, 2, 3, 4; Band 2, 3, 4; Debate 3, 4; Typing Club 3, 4; Library Club 4; PENN-GUIN 4; PENNANT 4.

Possessing a winning smile, Nancy Lou gains many friends. To all of us she is most pleasant; and as a result, this 5' 2" senior was a runner-up as most popular. Humorous, studious, and sincere are appropriate adjectives to describe her. This senior, who has brown hair and mischievous blue eyes, wants to become an air stewardess. Another dream is to own a ranch. Nancy's aptness of thought and sincerity have helped to overcome many difficult problems in her senior year.

CLEO ARDELLE HOFFMAN

"Cleo Patra"

PENN-GUIN 1, 4; Chorus 1, 2, 3, 4; Majorette 1, 2, 3, 4; Music Club 2; Sports Booster Club 2; Sports Leader Club 3, 4; Softball 4; PENNANT 4.

Whenever good music is heard, Cleo can be seen dancing. This senior often demonstrates her dancing skills at all school dances. Cleo is 5' 4" tall and she has brown hair and brown eyes. She is the leader of the majorettes in the school band, and this old timer is quiet, serious, and well-mannered. Cleo Patra has been seriously considering the career as an actress in summer stock theaters. In addition to acting, Cleo enjoys singing in the Senior Chorus.

BRENDA MARIE KIRKHOFF

"Brennie"

Student Council 1, 2, chaplain, 3 vice-president, 4 president; Chorus 1, 2, 3 and 4 secretary; Band 1, 2, 3 vice-president, 4 president; Music Club 1, 3 vice-president; County Chorus 1, 3, 4; County Band, Orchestra 1, 2, 3, 4; Class President 1, 2, 3, 4; District Band, Orchestra 2, 3, 4; State Band 3; Cheerleading 3; Debate 3, 4; Field Hockey 4; Homemaking Club 4, president; PENN-GUIN 1, 4 business manager; PENNANT 4 co-editor.

Brenda, voted the most popular, the most dependable, most talented, and the senior girl most likely to succeed, is always seen working in one of her extra-curricular activities. This old timer, who has spent many hours editing write-ups for the 1957 PENNANT, plans business training after graduation.

LAVERNE CLAYTON KOENIG

"Sonny"

Sportsman's Club 1; Baseball 1, 2, 4; Soccer 1, 2, 3, 4 co-captain; F.F.A. 2, 3, 4; PENNANT 4 layout editor.

Having been president of F.F.A. for three years, LaVerne proved to be most dependable. This senior boy, who is 5' 8" tall and who has blue eyes and blond hair, blushes to perfection whenever girls are mentioned. LaVerne was runner-up for the most dependable, the most popular, and the most outstanding senior athlete. As PENNANT layout editor, LaVerne spent many hours preparing all plans. This handsome senior's ambition is to be a mechanic. Because of his determination, LaVerne will be most successful in any type work he selects.

FORREST FRANKLIN LESHER

"Lesher"

Sports Club 1; Andio-Visual Club 2 treasurer, 3 secretary, 4 vice-president; Baseball 2, 3, 4; Chorus 2, 3, 4; Band 4; Class Treasurer 4; County Chorus 4; PENN-GUIN 4 sports editor; Soccer 4; Student Council 4; PENNANT 4 sports editor.

In all school functions "Lesher" is very active. As sports editor, he prepared many of the sports articles for the PENN-GUIN and the PENNANT. Although he is quite busy, Forrest still finds time to entertain many persons with his excellent accordion playing. Many times, during the day or evening, Forrest can be seen sharing an interesting and humorous conversation with his pals. His plans for September are to attend Pennsylvania State University. Everyone will always remember Forrest for his rôle in the Junior Play.

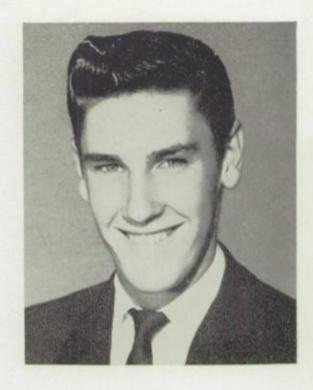

LARRY CHARLES LUCKENBILL

"Larry"

Sports Club 1, 2; Baseball 1, 2, 3, 4; Soccer 1, 2, 3, 4 co-captain; F.F.A. treasurer 4; PENNANT 4 sports editor.

The good looks, brown hair, and blue eyes, as well as his height of 6', have accounted for Larry's being voted the most handsome senior boy. His activity in all sports is the reason for his being chosen the most athletic boy. The senior high school students selected Larry as the most popular senior boy. His sincere smile, his genuine thoughts, and his kind interest for everyone have won him many friends. Included in Larry's plans is a tour of duty with the Air Force.

PAUL ZERBE MARTIN "Paul"

Sports Club 1; Audio-Visual Club 2, 3, 4 treasurer; Chorus 2, 3, 4; Baseball 4; Class vice-president 4; County Chorus 4; District Chorus 4; State Chorus 4; PENN-GUIN 4 photographer; PENNANT 4 business manager.

"Definitely" can be heard coming from this handsome 5' 8" senior in almost every conversation a student has with him. Paul was selected for County Chorus, District Chorus, and All-State Chorus; he enjoys singing and listening to good music in his leisure time. In addition to being runner-up as the most handsome senior boy, Paul was a competitor for the most dependable and the most talented senior. As business manager for the PENNANT, Paul worked endlessly to keep subscribers and patrons in order.

MARY JANE MOUNTZ

"Mary Jane"

Typing Club 3, 4; Field Hockey 4; PENN-GUIN 4; Senior Chorus 4; PENNANT 4.

This 5' 3" senior with brown hair and brown eyes is quiet, but a sincere friend to everyone. Mary Jane's interests revolve around commercial work, and she plans to attend business school after graduation. Mary Jane, as a result of her commercial skills, will undoubtedly become a very efficient secretary. This active senior enjoys listening to the radio as she does her homework. Mary Jane can be heard saying "Oh, forever more," when something she desires goes the wrong way.

CARL ALLEN OXENREIDER

"Carl"

F.F.A. 3, 4; PENNANT 4.

Carl, one of the five boys taking the agriculture course, is 5' 10½" tall. This senior, who was with us part-time in our sophomore and junior years, has used his Dodge for transportation to school during the entire senior year. This quiet boy finds much enjoyment while engaging in his two favorite pastimes: fishing and hunting. Carl has revealed great interest in helping the class through the Merchandise Club. Carl's determination to accomplish whatever he does will bring him much success in the near future.

NANCY JEANETTE PHILLIPS

"Nancy"

Music Club 1; Typing Club 3, 4; PENN-GUIN 4; Chorus 4; PENNANT 4.

Nancy is a most energetic senior; she always has a contagious giggle in all her commercial classes. She is 5' 3" tall; she enjoys all music; and this brown-haired, brown-eyed senior has a habit of improvising many dances. Nancy intends to go to business school in order to become a secretary. This senior has been heard to say, "What?" whenever asked a question or engrossed in conversation. Nancy can usually be seen with Mary Jane and Barbara studying her favorite subject, shorthand.

DONALD LEE SPAYD

"Spady"

Audio-Visual Club 1, secretary 2; Baseball 1, 2, 3, 4; Chorus, 1, 2, 3, 4; Soccer 1, 2, 3, 4; Debate 3, 4; Band, 3, 4; F.F.A. 3, 4 sentinel; PENNANT 4.

Spady, an industrious future farmer, is always willing to assist anyone in any kind of work. This active senior, who is 5' 11" tall, has brown eyes and brown hair. Spady enjoys listening to "Singing the Blues" and everyone can hear him exclaim, "I'll be darned," whenever he has to cope with a difficult agriculture problem. Donald is one of the old timers that will remember his years at Penn-Bernville. Students will remember Spady for his excellent participation in soccer.

ELMER MATHIAS SWARTZ

"Elmer"

Baseball 1, 4; Chorus 1, 2, 3, 4; Band 1, 2, 3, 4; Music Club 1, 3; Soccer 1, 4; County Chorus 4; Audio-Visual Club 4, chaplain; Debate 4; PENN-GUIN 4, sports editor; PENNANT 4, photographer.

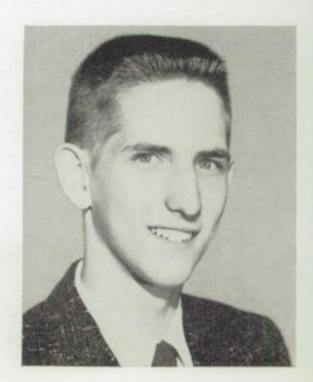

Whenever there is a photograph to be taken, call on Elmer. This pleasant senior with a friendly smile is always eager to assist any teacher or student. In spite of his after school work, Elmer has found time to work many evenings on the PENNANT. This 5' 7" blue-eyed senior can be seen with several of his friends, especially Fred. Elmer spends much of his spare time collecting records and coins. After graduation Elmer plans a career in the Air Force.

DENNIS PAUL SWEIGART

"Dennis"

Soccer 1; Student Council 1; Band 1, 2, 3, 4 librarian; Chorus 1, 2, 3, 4 treasurer; Music Club 1, 3, treasurer; PENN-GUIN 1, 4 business manager; Class treasurer 2, 3; Debate 3, 4; Audio-Visual Club 4; County Chorus 4; PENNANT 4 co-editor.

Dennis, who is usually seen arriving at school at 8:25 a.m., develops a cheerful atmosphere for his classmates. Dennis is 5' 10" tall; and with Brenda he has edited, rejected, and accepted writings for the yearbook. Everyone can expect a job well-done from this blue-eyed senior boy. He was a runner-up as the senior most likely to succeed. Whenever a loud sound booms through the school building, Dennis is practicing on his drums. Secretarial work is included in his plans after graduation.

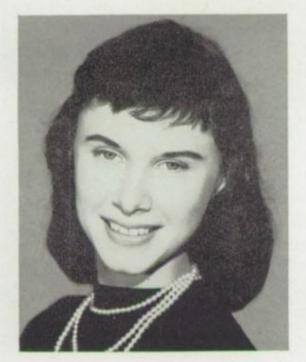

FAYE FERN TOBIAS "Faye"

Music Club 1; Band 1, 2, 3, 4 treasurer; Chorus 1, 2, 3, 4; Class secretary 1, 2, 3, 4; County Band 2, 3, 4; County Chorus 3, 4; Debate 3, 4; Typing Club 3, 4; Library Club 4; PENN-GUIN 4; PENNANT 4 secretary.

Faye is a very quiet, but active senior. She is a studious commercial student that plans to be a stenographer. Teachers and students list Faye as most reliable. She is 5' 7" tall and she has brown hair and hazel eyes. This interesting senior enjoys playing the piano, and her favorite expression that echoes through the school is "Oh, no!" Faye can proudly say that she is one of the seven old timers; and in spite of her many activities, Faye finds time to work in the library during the noon hour.

JOANNE FAY WENGERT

"Joe"

Chorus 1; Majorette 1, 2, 3, 4; PENN-GUIN 1, 4; Sports Booster Club 2; Music Club 2; Cheerleading 3; Art Club 3, 4; Field Hockey 4; Softball 4; PENNANT 4 artist.

Joanne has brown hair and blue eyes, and she is 5' 1" tall. Joe, a very quiet girl, can often be seen with Brenda painting or drawing. She has done the art work for half the dividers in this year's PENNANT. This pleasant girl has a friendly smile, but mischievous eyes. Joanne has a strong desire to become a commercial artist after graduation. Joanne's personality and striking appearance have made her a runner-up in the personality contest as the prettiest senior girl.

CARL FREDERICK WILHELM "Freddy"

Music Club 1; Class vice-president 1, 2, 3; Band 1, 2, 3, 4; Chorus 1, 2, 3, treasurer, 4 president; Student Council 2, 3 chaplain 4 treasurer; Baseball 3; Audio-Visual Club 3, 4 president; Debate 3, 4; PENN-GUIN 4 co-editor; Soccer 4 scorekeeper; PENNANT 4 feature editor.

Freddy's rapid speech and quickness in expressing his profound thoughts will be beneficial to him when teaching mathematics and science. He has constantly displayed extra interest in all his studies. This 6' 2" senior, who has brown hair and brown eyes, was voted the most dependable, the most talented, and the senior boy most likely to succeed. In September, Fred plans to study at Pennsylvania State University.

PAUL PETER YANOSIK

"Paul"

Audio-Visual Club 3, 4; Chorus 4; PENNANT 4.

In our junior year, Paul joined us for our final school years. Alphabetically, Paul is last; but academically, Paul has proved himself to be one of the best students in the academic course. Paul, one of the tallest seniors, is very intelligent. Even though he has acquired the reputation of being the most serious, he has grasped our way of school life and has gained many friends. Being a bass, Paul enjoys singing in the Senior Chorus. After graduation he plans to become a draftsman.

The eight boys and eighteen girls presented "The Night of January 16th" on Thursday, November 29, 1956. This was a new type of stage production, labeled by everyone: "A big success."

Susan Goldstein and Norman Burkey in a class meeting.

On December 18, 1956, the Junior class held its annual Christmas party; on February 15, 1957, "Heart's Fantasy" — the Valentine dance — was sponsored by the juniors. The class members also conducted bake sales, purchased class rings, and sold bracelets and tie clasps. Top songs are "Blueberry Hill", "Green Door", "Singin' the Blues", and "Just Walking in the Rain."

The Freshmen class consists of thirty-four students, supervised by Mr. Klinger. Special recognition is given to the freshmen for the numerous articles they wrote for the PENN-GUIN.

Mary Ellen Hoffman and Grace Degler.

Thursday evening, December 13, 1956, was the first time these students held a class party after school. This Christmas party was termed an excellent event, for only one student was unable to attend. On Friday, March 15, 1957, the class held its first dance: "Wishing Whirl." The freshmen have well-begun their musical journey—favorite songs are "Love Me", "Singin' the Blues", "Young Love", and "Don't Be Cruel".

This class, supervised by Mrs. Lutz, consists of nineteen students: thirteen girls, six boys. Various clubs as the following occupied the students' time: Student Council and Junior Chorus.

> Murlene Bashore, Shirley Gingrich, Geraldine Benzel.

In the cafeteria this class held its Christmas party on Friday afternoon, December 21, 1956. These students participated in a combined field trip with 8A. The visit to the Berks Historical Society was made as a history project under the direction of Mr. Brown.

These students will readily recall the year's events when they hear their top songs: "Blueberry Hill", "Love Me Tender", and "Singin' the Blues".

To commemorate the birthdays of Lincoln and Washington, this class participated in the P. T. A. Founders' Day Program by staging a patriotic play. These fourteen girls and ten boys are under the supervision of Miss Riegel. The girls of this class are members of the Red Cross Club, also advised by Miss Riegel.

The entire class joined the other students in the school cafeteria for the Christmas party, Friday, December 21, 1956. "Love Me Tender," "Green Door," "Young Love," "Gonna Get Along Without You Now," and "Love Me" are the favorite songs of this class.

Mr. Kaiser has directed this class that consists of nineteen boys and fourteen girls. During the school year the girls worked in the cafeteria; one student played in the school Band; and the class held a combined Hallowe'en party with 7A.

Homeroom Christmas Party.

On Friday, December 21, 1956, the class held a Christmas party in the homeroom; the party consisted of distribution of gifts, a light lunch, and dancing.

All the students have adjusted themselves well to the change from elementary courses. Musical favorites include "Don't Be Cruel", "Hound Dog", "Love Me Tender", "Blueberry Hill", and "Singin' the Blues".

The sixteen girls and the fifteen boys are under the guidance of Mrs. Hassler. These pupils have engaged in two clubs: the Junior Red Cross and the Variety Club. For St. Patrick's Day, the class made nut cups and favors for the Junior Red Cross. The Variety Club Members have had puppetry, art activities, sewing, model making, and woodcarving.

The first candid picture displays activities in which the students participated during a study of the solar system. Bonnie Luckenbill has represented the grade in the county band. The grade has selected 'Banana Boat Song' and "Moonlight Gambler" as their favorite songs.

First Row: Dennis Zerbe, Clayton Wagner, Janet Lyon, Bonnie Luckenbill, Ann Delp. Second Row: Tanya Pyle, Carol Trautman, Sonja Kraatz, Joyce Epler.

Class Study Period.

First Row: Earlene Kauffman, Barbara Rhoads, Jane Heffelfinger, Barbara Ernst, Sylvia Kraatz, Barbara Schaeffer, Diana Kissling, Sharon Messner, Jacqueline Eyer. Second Row: Judy Tobias, Pamela Bender, Garry Strausser, Donald Keener, Karl Koenig, Kenneth Leonhard, David Adam, John Petinko, Elaine Speicher, Sandra Luckenbill. Third Row: Dennis Luckenbill, Paul Gould, Lee Bare, Rodney Swartz, Jacob Gernsheimer, Jeffrey Gernsheimer, Joseph Stamm, Terrence Fehmel, Daniel Doganes, Gene Zerbe; absent from picture, Sandra Ney.

Supervised by Mrs. Rothermel, fourteen girls and sixteen boys completed many projects during the school year. Activities in which they participated are as follows: a puppet show, motion pictures about the wars of the United States, and a flannel graph on the United States. To prepare the graph, each student had to make a state; after doing this, the pupils fitted the states together like a jigsaw puzzle. The complete project was made of flannel.

Lee Bare, Jeffrey Gernsheimer, Paul Gould, Jacob Gernsheimer, Jane Heffelfinger, John Petinko. In circle: Diana Kissling, Pamela Bender, Sandra Luckenbill, Elaine Speicher. The first candid picture shows a dramatization of Peter Pan with the lost boys and Indians in Never-Never Land.

Social activities in which they have engaged were the parties on Hallowe'en, Christmas, and Valentine's Day. Song favorites include "Love Me Tender", "Green Door", "Hound Dog", and "Ringle Rangle".

Class Reading Period.

"Life in the Polar Regions" was only one of the many subjects studied and discussed by this class of twenty-one girls and sixteen boys during the school year. The Fourth grade students, with Mrs. Noll's assistance, wrote and produced a play concerning Columbus Day.

Activities in which the students have engaged are the Hallowe'en Parade, the P.T.A. Christmas program, and May Day. Also, the students were given the opportunity to learn instrumental music.

Mrs. Ernst, the Third-grade teacher, supervised the completion of an Indian project, which depicted all phases of Indian life. Another favorite study of these students was the reading about animals of the zoo. They also made pictures of different animals in their art class.

Anita Steigerwald, Janet Kline, Susan Mengel, George Reppert, David Schaeffer, Ronald Merkel, and Terry Delp. At their Hallowe'en, Christmas, and Valentine parties, games were played; refreshments were served; and songs were sung. Presents were exchanged at the Christmas party, and each child received many valentines from the Valentine box that was filled to the top.

Grade Three Reading class.

Eighteen girls and seventeen boys worked with Mrs. M. Holtzman during the year filling Red Cross educational boxes and selling seeds to raise money for the class.

Units of study for the year included the following: the farm, the post office, the circus, the dairy, the vegetable man, the fireman, and the policeman. The unit on the vegetable man was one of the favorites; the children drew pictures of vegetables, planned menus, sold seeds, and planned a garden for the coming summer. One candid picture shows students putting their vegetable men into the vegetable wagon.

Another interesting unit was the Circus. All phases of their work was related to this unit: Art—circus train and circus faces; Music—songs about the "Big Top"; and Arithmetic—problems concerning animals.

Second Grade Reading period.

Grade 1

The First Grade Flower Show was a spectacle of beauty! A color lesson couldn't be taught better than by the varied colors presented. Chairman of the Flower Committee was Terry Benzel. The twenty-two girls and twenty-four boys, taught by Mrs. E. Holtzman, have also worked in the following: Doll Show, Hallowe'en Parade, Red Cross drive, Christmas P.T.A. program, and holiday parties.

Marjorie Wilhelm, Marcia Speicher, Marianne Zerbe.

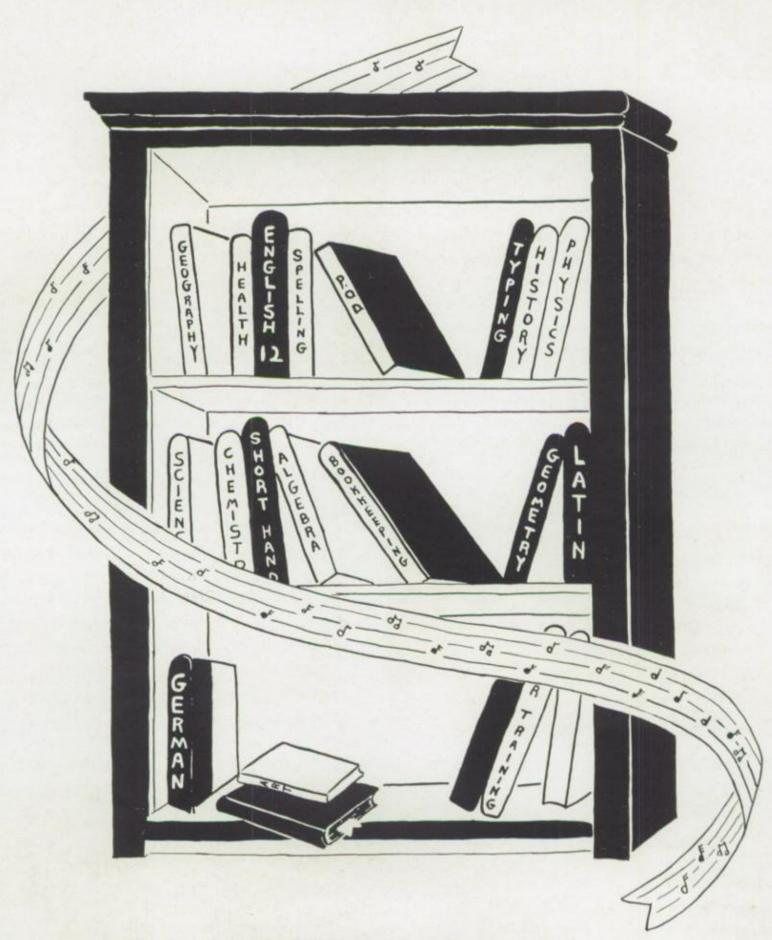

An interesting project was working with clay taken from creeks and molded into bases for pine cones. They also designed figures for puzzle work.

One candid picture displays a portrayal of the "Gingerbread Boy", in connection with the Book Fair. It was a literary and musical version of the story. Chairmen of the Bulletin Board and the Blackboard Committees were Kirk Barnett and Phyllis Ernst, respectively.

CURRICULA

Art 11

Brushes...oils...canvas! Mr. Mangano is instructing Elinor Earhart as she works with her oil painting. The other juniors are working on their individual art projects. Completed works of art are used for bulletin board displays and for displays in different homerooms.

Art 10

Whenever the sophomores occupy the art room, there is constant varied activity. Mrs. Kohl and her student teacher, Mr. Mangano, have always given excellent advice and suggestions to the students. With the teachers' assistance, the sophomores were able to make suitable decorations for their dance.

Art 9

During the year, the freshmen have completed numerous assignments under the supervision of Mrs. Kohl and her student teachers. Pauline Blatt and Dawn Sweigart are receiving individual help while others continue their drawing. Scrap material assembling and abstract oil painting were only two of the many projects.

Art 76

In this candid, the 7B students are doing still life drawing. These vivid pictures have helped to decorate the art room and the bulletin board. The pupils have also done water coloring and various other style drawings. These students enjoy this creative expression.

Homemaking 11

Pressing napkins, combing the fringes, and folding the napkins are daily assignments to eleventh grade homemaking girls. Displaying their neatness are Sonja Henne, Elinor Earhart, and Barbara J. Blatt. Each project prepares the girls for future housekeeping. All classes are instructed by Mrs. Ritter.

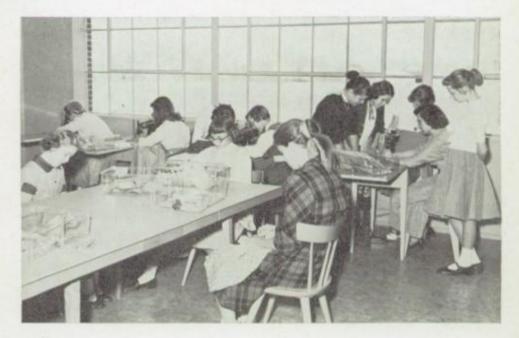

Homemaking 12

Two favorite studies in home economics class are cooking and baking. These four seniors and Mrs. Ritter are preparing to serve and taste their dessert, Baked Alaska. Proper table settings, table manners, and correct serving are also stressed in homemaking classes.

Homemaking 7

Study of good housekeeping begins in junior high school. These seventh graders are working on their homemaking projects; Lula Broadwater, Lynne Reber, and Doris Kirkhoff work independently on sewing machines, while Mrs. Ritter demonstrates sewing techniques to four seventh grade girls.

Homemaking 10

Sophomores often use the electrical appliances in the home economics room. Tenth grade girls enjoy making pastries and different lunches. Whenever the girls bake, faculty members enjoy tasting the excellent results. Nancy Speicher and Melinda White are checking the electric range.

German 11

In German class, silent reading and translation are two study methods used in learning the new language. Reading German passages is facilitated by studying and knowing effective vocabulary assignments. The students are pleased that they learn German so quickly.

Latin 10

Conjugations, declensions, subjunctive mood, vocabulary, and translation are included in second-year Latin. Mrs. Lutz instructs the class in their accurate Latin reading. Since approximately 50% of our English words have Latin derivations, the study aids all students in the English language.

English 9

Audio-visual aids play an important rôle in the learning of all languages. While Larry Kline operates the tape recorder, Stewart Brodman speaks into the microphone. The use of the recorder creates confidence, proper speech habits, and clear thinking. This practice will help them in conversation.

Language Arts 7b

"Tall, taller, tallest . . ."The comparison of adjectives is clearly demonstrated by three seventh grade students. Studying with Miss Riegel, these junior-high students readily learn correct English grammar and literature. The students have found Miss Riegel's class to be interesting, important, and challenging.

Math 7

Fractions and their divisions, always confusing to beginning math students, are being explained by Edward Fisher. Mr. Kaiser has emphasized the value of blackboard work in math, and the students recognize the importance of learning mathematics by this technique.

Geometry

Pauline Glosser and June Speicher are constructing an altitude and median of two triangles while the other juniors work problems at their desks. The students enjoy constructing the various geometric figures with two important tools: compasses and a protractor.

Algebra 9

In algebra exact measurements are most important. Shirley Schaeffer records the widths of the different objects measured by Barbara Ernst, Stewart Brodman, and Sally Care. Algebraic expressions and their problems occupied much of these students' time during the school year.

Irigonometry

The operation of the slide-rule and its functions are being discussed by Paul Martin, Forrest Lesher, and C. Frederick Wilhelm. Instructed by Mr. Sell, these seniors study the relations of the sides and angles of triangles and apply them to other figures involving triangles.

Music 86

New kettledrums in the music department create curiosity and interest in all music students. Using the soft-headed elastic sticks, Robert Geiger attempts to play the drums properly. The acquisition of the kettledrums provides for a more complete program in music classes and in the band.

Music 9

The freshmen meet weekly for music class. Many of these students, after proving their singing ability, enter the Junior Chorus. Next year the ninth grade pupils will participate in the Senior Chorus. It is evident from the candid picture on the right that the students enjoy singing.

Music 8a

In addition to playing the tuba in the band, Robert Lyon displays his music ability to other 8A students gathered to hear him. Studying vocal music and appreciating classical records are also part of the prescribed course of study in music.

Music 7a

Group singing, conducted by Mr. Berger, is enjoyed by seventh grade students in their music classes. New songs, as well as familiar compositions, are studied and practiced by this group. This vocal training will be most beneficial to these students in future years.

Physical Ed 8

Barbara Kalke, Marjorie Bixler, Sally Trautman, and Janet Schlappich are demonstrating procedures used in throwing a basketball. The junior-high girls enjoy participating in the competitive sports, and their year's study has included learning drills-a form of rhythm work.

Physical Ed 10

Weekly calisthenics are held by Mrs. Epler in senior-high classes. Physical conditioning is most important in all gym classes, and the girls enjoy the strenuous activity. Learning tap dancing routines has developed sound rhythm and co-ordination, and bounce volleyball has created new interest.

Physical Ed 8

"Three . . . six . . . nine, hike," can be heard from Larry Endy as Donald Oswald prepares to hike the ball. Football has been a popular sport played in junior-high gym classes. These eighth grade boys learn teamwork and good sportsmanship in all their physical education classes.

Physical Ed 11-12

"Keep that right up!" Mr. Matthew explains the fundamentals of boxing to the following: LaVerne Koenig, Norman Burkey, Ronald Kirkhoff, and Sherwood Himelberger. Each boxing match, held on the mats, consists of three rounds. Competing against each other, classes have also played volleyball at

Physics 11-12

"Principle of Moments" is the experiment being performed by Forrest Lesher, Elmer Swartz, Paul Matin, and C. Frederick Wilhelm as Mr. Sell supervises. Meeting five times each week, the academic students perform numerous experiments in their study of physical science.

Biology 10

In their study of living organisms, sophomores collect different insects and study them thoroughly. Studying the Anthropoda, Kent Steinhauer, Ned Gehris, and Judith Bertram perform a careful and detailed dissection. This science gives all the students a complete understanding of the science of life.

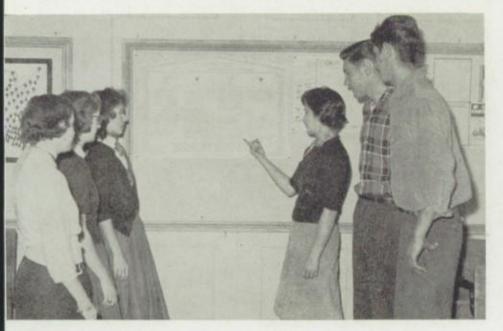

Science 9

Larry Wagner, Betty Reiner, Donna Braithwaite, Bruce Good, and Ruth Kirkhoff are examining the barometer to forecast the weather. Numerous other instruments are used in their study of general science. These fundamentals of science will prepare the students for the advanced courses.

Science 7a

In this science demonstration Judy Luft proves that air has weight. Supervised by Mr. Matthew, the junior-high students perform many experiments. One of the year's interesting projects was the construction of model heating systems for homes. Interest and cooperation are high in this subject.

P.O. D. 12

Problems of American Democracy are explained, discussed, and debated in the senior class. Brenda Brehm explains the story of American Democracy to other seniors. Supervised by Mr. Brown, the students have learned to cope with future problems and to understand the true meaning of the government.

History 11

Most important and interesting to all juniors is the story of America and its development. Mr. Berger has traced the progress of the westward movement and the historical events to the present era. William Epler's use of a chart stresses the study of the Mississippi Valley.

Civics 9

"Propaganda Devices that Can Mislead You..." is one of the bulletin board posters in Mr. Brown's classroom. Freshmen study civic problems and discuss possible solutions; they also study about the Keystone State. Grace Degler uses this display to emphasize possible misleading devices in a democracy.

History 86

As Joan Benzel points to the United States on the world globe, the other class members watch closely. Projects that include drawing maps and taking field trips enable the students to understand United States history more thoroughly. Mr. Brown has supervised their year's course of study.

Agriculture 9-10

"Vegetable Gardening" is one unit of study covered by the freshmen and sophomores in agriculture. Having the students read about gardening and its problems, Mr. Sleppy gives assistance to Raymond Kantner in his reading. Textbook study is only one phase of their farm training.

Agriculture 11-12

Successful farming for these students will depend upon their knowledge of recent farm developments and procedures. Mr. Sleppy is using a poster to illustrate results of proper agriculture methods. Magazines and recent farm publications keep future farmers informed about better farming techniques.

Agriculture

Many of the agriculture students work in the industrial arts section by building, repairing, and completing numerous projects. Jerald Hartman, Carl Oxenreider, and Carl Lachman spend many hours weekly in the shop department. Their training will undoubtedly help them become better farmers.

Agriculture

In addition to being president of the Future Farmers, LaVerne Koenig has been working in the industrial arts room on his different wood projects. LaVerne puts the finishing touches on his most recent work—a cedar chest. All farming students find shop important and interesting.

Typing 11

Accuracy, neatness, and speed in typing are checked by Mrs. Mooney, while the juniors type their assignments. Beginning commercial students learn the fundamentals of typing and realize the value in the secretarial field. As practice many juniors type reports for other subjects.

Shorthand 12

Shorthand—essential for efficient secretaries—is emphasized by Mrs. Mooney. As Cleo Hoffman dictates, Mary Jane Mountz writes on the blackboard in shorthand. Other seniors demonstrate their skills on paper. Newly-purchased 45 rpm records are used for dictation purposes to test speed and accuracy.

G. B. J. 10

To acquire an understanding of business, sophomores receive general business training. Rebecca Moore explains credits and drafts; the class has studied business terms and their application in commercial affairs. On the bulletin board the sophomores have shown the evolution of our exchange system.

Typing 12

Explaining proper spacing and margins, Mrs. Mooney supervises Brenda Brehm as she prepares to type an assignment. Students, such as Cleo Hoffman and Joanne Wengert, recognize the significance of knowing basic typing rules, as well as the proper care of the typewriter and its uses in business.

Industrial Arts 11-12

Larry Luckenbill, Carl Oxenreider, and Jerald Hartman are completing a bookcase. Every industrial arts student has several projects for the year, and great satisfaction is achieved upon completing a project as seen in the candid on the left. Someone will receive a sturdy bookcase from these students!

Industrial Arts 9

A group of freshmen boys, assisted by Mr. Sleppy, are completing their individual projects. Understanding the power tools and employing them in the work, these boys make objects, such as bird shelters. Exact measurements are stressed by the instructor in all the assignments.

Industrial Arts 7

Benches, shelves, clothes racks—everything can be constructed because of the numerous tools and the shop's equipment. A course in industrial arts never omits a study of accident prevention; co-operation among students is important for completion of the assigned work; and accuracy is essential for a satisfactory project.

Industrial Arts 8

Becoming familiar with each machine and its operation facilitates the completion of the eighth grade projects. With a suitable working knowledge of carpentry, these boys can proceed to more difficult assignments. As these boys assemble, measure, and plan, they employ the industrial arts.

Health 10

With Walt Epler as patient, the tenth grade boys practice tying bandages. Other first-aid techniques they have studied include giving artificial respiration, assisting a person in an accident, and aiding a person that has internal poisoning. First-aid methods have become an essential part of the curricula.

Health 8

"Safety at Home" is vividly explained and emphasized in the chart used by Dennis Adam. Learning safety practices is extended to include safety in school situations and safety as pedestrians. Also, the students learn the parts of the human body and its proper care.

Health 11-12

The anatomy model, purchased by the Student Council, is most helpful in health classes. Showing the different parts of the body, Larry Luckenbill takes the model apart as Paul Yanosik and Jerald Hartman observe. This aids in learning the positions of the vital organs.

Health 8

Eight girls in Health 8 class are participating in a panel discussion. Those sharing in the discussion are as follows: Barbara Kalke, Sarah Trautman, Sandra Adams, Ann Klose, Janet Schlappich, Joan Benzel, Sandra Kerner, and Anne Burkey. This class is under the direction of Mrs. Epler.

Driver Ed Theory

Each year more schools realize the necessity for a driver-training course. Correct driving habits are discussed by Sherwood Himelberger and Norman Burkey. Using the charts, the juniors learn effectively the theory of driver education; and each of these classes is supervised by Mr. Matthew.

Driver Training

Eileen Good, observed by Mr. Matthew, Susan Goldstein, and Lorraine Kramer, places her driving theories into actual practice on the training course. Without using the driver training automobile, the juniors would readily lose their textbook theory. This class is most interesting, as well as educational.

Driver Training

Speedometer, ammeter, odometer, and gasoline gauge are familiar terms used by driver training students. Yvonne McQuate points to the gauges that must be known for the driver's test. Class members are required to know all engine parts and chassis parts before driving the car.

Driver Education

Training students to operate and repair the audio-visual equipment of the school is one of the main purposes of the Audio-Visual Club. Organized by Mr. Sell, the club supplies operators for classes and extra-curricular programs.

These students also operated the projector for P.T.A. programs, and they also operated the public address system at school and at the churches. The group made cord holders for all extension cords. The candid pictures show members inspecting the new Argus C-3 camera.

"Your book will be due in two weeks . . ." or "Sign your card, please" can be heard every noon in the library. Fourteen girls serve as librarians; their main duties have consisted of checking books in and out of the library, keeping shelves clean and in order, replacing books on the shelves, and keeping the accession book current with titles of newly-acquired books.

Acting as temporary faculty advisor, Mr. Klinger has arranged schedules for the club members. The members have compiled a list of books that should be purchased for the new library. Mr. Rohrbach has expressed his desire for a complete, up-to-date library with all available facilities.

When the new library is built, the Library Club members will assist in arranging a convenient library filing plan.

These club members have considerable interest in music; and belonging to this organization, the girls can express themselves musically. Girls from ninth through eleventh grades are represented in this club and they have completed the following projects: purchase of new records, "Tag Day" for the girls, and "Tag Day" for the boys.

Patricia Kerner, Jane Wilhelm, Yvonne McQuate, Kay Pfautz.

"Tag Day" gave the students a chance to have their books carried to all their classes by the persons tagged for the day. This was one fundraising activity that enabled the club members to attend a concert.

Soccer Practice

Soccer

At the beginning of another school term, the soccer season was eagerly opened. Having lost eight starting players through graduation, we found that the season looked none too hopeful. Caught with an inexperienced team, the Wildcats ended the season with one win, eight losses, and three ties.

After opening the '56 season with a loss to Perry, 2-0, the boys with educated feet tied Mt. Penn with a score of 1-1 in a hard-fought contest in which the goal was made by Leslie Weidman.

The third battle which was played at Bethel, our greatest rival, was one of the hardest fought games that resulted in a tie, 0-0. The next game was played against Fleetwood's team that won the county championship. This game was lost by a score of 3-0.

Playing Schuylkill Valley, the boys were the victors with a score of 1-0. Penn-Bernville was next opposed by Exeter at home; however, the Wildcats lost by a score of 1-0. Hamburg was the next encounter, which was a rough struggle for the players. The game was won by Hamburg, 2-0. Twin Valley was our next opposition. Because of wet grounds, both teams were severely handicapped. Twin Valley scored and won, 4-0.

Next, we faced Daniel Boone. This was another hard-fought game; but failing to score, our team was defeated by a score of 2-0. In the following game we scored, but the final score was the following: Oley—3; Penn-Bernville—1.

In the final game at Conrad Weiser the Wildcats played a good defensive game with a final score of 0-0. The high scorer for the soccer season was Leslie Weidman.

Larry Luckenbill and LaVerne Koenig were the co-captains of Penn- Bernville's soccer team. The following represent the scores for the soccer season:

Baseball

Penn-Bernville's baseball team was combined with the Bethel team to form the Tulpehocken Trojans.

The Trojans had a successful season that ended with six wins and two losses. The two losses were to Hamburg, who won the division title. Also, the Trojans played in four practice games, which were won by the Trojans.

The baseball team was coached by two experienced faculty members: Mr. Matthew of Penn-Bernville and Mr. Hess of Bethel.

Girls' Softball

The girls' varsity softball team for this year has had a limited schedule. Rather than having a heavy varsity schedule, these girls were asked to coach intramural softball teams made up of the girls of all grades. These games were played after school.

This type program has enabled more girls to participate in this sport. At the same time, the program has developed leadership among the girls who are willing to assume the responsibility of coaching an intramural team.

Mrs. Epler has supervised the teams and their progress during softball season.

ACTIVITIES

MAY 13, 1956. Last year's May Queen, Evelyn Larkin, was attended by Carol Tobias, maid of honor; and the remaining senior girls served as attendants. The May Pole Dance, presented by the ninth and tenth grade girls, was a main feature of the afternoon. The entire affair was enjoyed immensely by both the parents and the pupils.

SEPTEMBER 4, 1956. The beginning of a school term is anxiously anticipated by all students, especially the new elementary pupils. This candid indicates a "slight" desire to begin studying. Here we can see the profound thirst for knowledge characteristic of all students! The progressive study of reading, writing, and arithmetic will begin shortly.

NOVEMBER 2, 1956. The "Witches' Serenade"—the Hallowe'en dance sponsored by the sophomores—was the first dance of the school year. Corn shocks, skeletons, pumpkins, cats, and black and orange streamers produced a bewitching atmosphere. As the students entered the cafeteria, each was given a miniature goblin's hat as a favor.

NOVEMBER 8, 1956. Penn-Bernville's Student Council members participated in the Berks County Student Activities Conference at Oley High School. Council members returned with many suggestions about improving school life. At the meeting the students received ideas for fund-raising activities, dances, and school conduct.

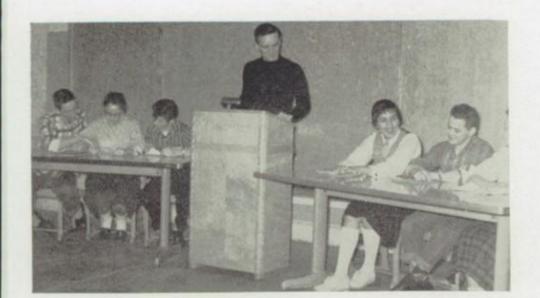

NOVEMBER 29, 1956. "Do you swear to fairly try this case?" . . . was asked the jurors in the Junior Class play, "The Night of January 16th". These jurors were selected from the audience, and their verdict of "not guilty" has undergone much controversy. This thrilling murder trial is still being discussed in the community. Nice work, Juniors!

NOVEMBER 29, 1956. The PENNANT fund gained $672.51 from the annual magazine campaign, the total sales of which amounted to $2,645.46. The publishing company representative, Mr. Gamber, presented a radio to Richard Bond, who collected $151.19 during the drive. Richard poses with C. Fred Wilhelm, who was the mystery student, and last year's winner Ned Gehris.

DECEMBER 17, 1956. Should yearbook covers be school colors or class colors? The Student Council supervised this panel discussion concerning the covers. Voting was held in the homerooms afterwards. Defending school colors were Susan Goldstein, Larry Kline, and Kay Pfautz. Speaking for class colors were Dennis Sweigart, Brenda Kirkhoff, and Jerald Hartman.

DECEMBER 19, 1956. Candlelight, a choir processional to "Adeste Fidelis", familiar carols, old seasonal hymns, soloists, instrumental music—all were part of the annual Christmas service held in St. Thomas' Church. The junior and senior choruses, as well as the band, were directed by Mr. Berger.

DECEMBER 22, 1956. "Silver Bells", the Senior Class dance, ushered in the holiday season with an orchestra and festive decorations. Students and alumni danced and joined in the pre-Christmas merrymaking, for this Saturday evening event attracted many alumni. This was another successful school affair.

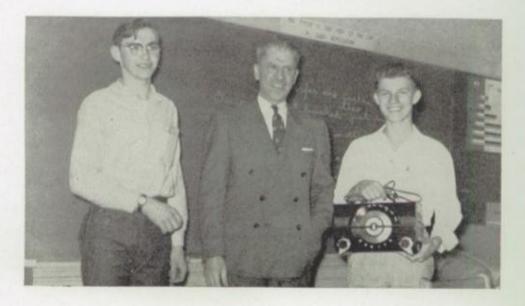

FEBRUARY 8, 1957. Archery made its initial appearance at Penn-Bernville! The Archery Club has been started under the supervision of Mrs. Epler and Mr. Brown. This new club has been received with great enthusiasm by the students and the faculty members. Tournaments are now being planned by the group.

FEBRUARY 15, 1957. Cupid's Corner was a popular spot for those attending "Heart's Fantasy", the Junior Class dance. Hearts, cupids, red candles, white candles, balloons, and colorful streamers formed the Valentine motif. Johnny Hartman and Jane Wilhelm reigned as King and Queen of Hearts.

FEBRUARY 18, 1957. The Merchandise Club, conducted by the seniors to raise money for the PENNANT, began in November for fourteen weeks. Mr. Landis has just congratulated the two top salesmen; for their outstanding achievement, Carl Oxenreider received a wrist watch; and Elmer Swartz, a clock radio.

MARCH 5, 7, 8, 1957. The year's debate problem was "Should the Hungarian refugees be allowed to enter the United States?" Affirmative speakers included Susan Goldstein, C. Frederick Wilhelm, and Nancy Lou Henne. The following were negative speakers: Brenda Kirkhoff, Faye Tobias, and Mae Degler. These debates were held at Conrad-Weiser, Bethel, and Penn-Bernville.

APRIL 11, 1957. "Take drastic action—beg, borrow, or steal!" refers to Paul Martin's stealing long trousers from LaVerne Koenig. The theft occurred after Joanne Wengert shouted to Paul in "We Shook the Family Tree", a comedy in three acts. The seniors also presented "Night Scene", a tragedy in one act.

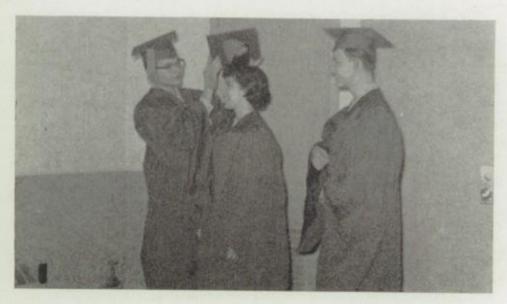

APRIL, 1957. This month welcomed the fifth annual Spring Band Concert. Mr. Russell Berger directed many marches, overtures and other selections which included Ave Maria, Concerto Petite, and Burlesca. Everyone enjoyed this afternoon of music. Refreshments were served during intermission by the Band Boosters.

MAY, 1957. "Washington, here we come!" Arriving before any other senior, Larry Luckenbill waits anxiously for the chartered bus to begin the early morning Senior Class trip. A crowded itinerary will include visiting the United States Capital, the Supreme Court, Washington Monument, and Arlington Cemetery.

MAY, 1957. Corsages, evening gowns, and an orchestra create the atmosphere—a semi-formal scene—for the Junior-Senior Prom. Since the senior year is filled with numerous activities, the Seniors appreciate the dance sponsored by the Junior Class. This night of relaxation proves to be the most exciting event of the year.

MAY 24, 1957. Graduation preparations—Paul Martin, Brenda Brehm, and Elmer Swartz try on their caps and gowns. Commencement exercises are almost here, and the gowns must fit properly. After strenuously working in all the year's activities, the seniors have reached the time for their final plans.

MAY 26, 1957. Baccalaureate service—an important occasion for all seniors—reflects the true spiritual message essential for continued growth as alumni of Penn-Bernville. Within a few days, after graduation exercises, these same students will begin their careers as adults.

MAY 31, 1957. The underclassmen, having turned in books and cleaned desks, have received their report cards; and they are leaving school for the summer vacation. The seniors, having completed the final day in high school, are leaving school for the last time. Their prelude has ended, and their symphony has now begun.

The Musical History of the Class of 1957

Our musical career was begun in First grade with Cleo Hoffman, Brenda Kirkhoff, Donald Spayd, Dennis Sweigart, Faye Tobias, Joanne Wengert, and C. Frederick Wilhelm. This group participated in the Rhythm Band under the direction of Mrs. Emily Holtzman.

In Third grade Larry Luckenbill joined us from Centre Township. Another musician joined us in Fourth grade, Barbara A. Blatt; and Elmer Swartz joined us in sixth grade from Muhlenberg. Seventh grade found an added musician, Patricia Doganes.

In Ninth grade, our musical group was joined by Brenda Brehm, Mae Degler, Sarah Fox, Jerald Hartman, Nancy Lou Henne, LaVerne Koenig, Forrest Lesher, Paul Martin, and Nancy Phillips from Jefferson Township; Shirley Bender also arrived from Bern Township. One of the first undertakings of our Freshman class was the election of officers for the year. Brenda Kirkhoff was chosen president; C. Frederick Wilhelm, vice-president; Faye Tobias, secretary; and Robert Bender, treasurer. We sponsored a dance entitled "Crystal Ball." We had also taken a trip to Philadelphia to see some of the actual places where important events had occurred. We visited important points, such as Independence Hall and the Franklin Institute.

Under the guidance of Mr. Matthew, our Tenth grade presented a "Beat the Clock" assembly program. Mary Jane Mountz joined us from Marion Township. We sponsored a dance with the theme of "Enchanted Evening." Activities of the class were under the direction of Brenda Kirkhoff, president; C. Frederick Wilhelm, vice-president; Faye Tobias, secretary; Dennis Sweigart, treasurer; and Brenda Brehm, chaplain.

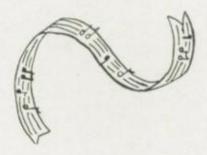

As we came nearer and nearer to our finale, we were joined by Paul Yanosik. Under the guidance of Mr. Sell, in our Junior year we selected our class rings, sponsored the Junior Prom, and presented our play "Marry Them Off". The officers of the Junior class were as follows: Brenda Kirkhoff, President; C. Frederick Wilhelm, vice-president; Faye Tobias, secretary; Dennis Sweigart, treasurer; and Joan Houck, chaplain.

We are now in the last strain of the finale. With Brenda Kirkhoff, president; Paul Martin, vice-president; Faye Tobias, secretary; Forrest Lesher, treasurer; and Joanne Wengert, chaplain; we sponsored the "Silver Bells" dance. As seniors we are very active in school and county musical functions. There were representatives in all-county band, all-county chorus. One member also participated in Eastern District Chorus and All-State Chorus.

Looking back over the years, our musicians have been very active and will continue to carry their harmony through the years.
